SEABORN WRIGHT ADDRESSES MEETING

Financial Waste of Liquor His Theme.

HOUSE WAS CROWDED

The Noted Temperance Orator Delivers an Eloquent Address. The Drinker Pays the Whiskey Tax and the Big Distillers and Brewers Take all the Profits

Hon. Seaborn Wright addressed a large and attentive audience at the opera house last night.

In a few well chosen words E. C. Clemens introduced the speaker of the evening. Mr. Wright has a most pleasing personality. Any shorthand reporter would be delighted to take down his utterances, for he speaks slowly, very distinctly, and weighs his words carefully. His very utterance breathe the sincerity of the man, and assures his audience of his loyalty to the cause he has championed.

"One half of the south," said he, "has abolished the saloon." The people of the south, he asserted, were no better than the people of the north. The elimination of the saloon in the south resulted from economic causes. War first ruined the south but the cotton crop again brought wealth. The south was no liquor producing country. Beer and whiskey are not manufactured there. Every gallon of beer or whiskey there was a foreign product.

"Liquor," said the speaker, "never made a man stronger, richer or happier, never made a woman happy or made a child's life sweeter. It never added one dollar to the wealth of the country. The south never stopped fighting until it drove out every saloon. It was no hysterical movement there. The fundamental principle involved was the unspeakable waste of money. He liked the western people and related his experiences in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. Some people thought the prohibition movement was simply a woman's project.

No one," said the speaker, "is making war against the man who wants to drink. No law on earth can revolutionize the character of a man, for laws against drunkenness do not make a man sober, nor do laws against theft prevent men from stealing." "The movement," reiterated the speaker, "is not against the man who wants to drink, neither is this movement against the little saloon men, they do not as a rule own their saloons, seventy-eight per cent of the saloons in Minnesota are not owned by saloonkeepers. This fight is against the whiskey trust. The little saloonkeeper does not even get the profit from his saloon. There was a time when the money stayed in the town where it was spent. But that time is past."

"The great distillers and breweries of this country," maintained the speaker, "are the masters of this situation. Brainerd consumes $100,000 worth of liquor a year. Where does the money go when spent? It does not go to the little saloonkeeper. It does not stay with the merchants in town. Your great distillers and whiskey rectifiers get three-fourths of every dollar spent for whiskey in this town. This is a system which takes millions from the people of this state and controls the politics of the state. Business interests say, for instance, it wouldn't do to put the saloon out of business."

"Have you ever stopped to consider," said Mr. Wright, assuming one of his characteristic attitudes by setting himself, "that every dollar taken out of trade by liquor interests of this country is transferred to Peoria and St. Paul. A saloon never brings money in a town. It takes money out of town. Thirty saloonkeepers in Brainerd are holding out their hands and saying 'Give!' Seventy-five per cent of the money spent in a saloon goes out of town. All the poor saloonkeepers gets is the crumbs which fall from the distillers and brewers bounty. The system transfers the wealth of the town and never brings it back again. It is only a question of time when the north learns this lesson as the south did."

He told a story to illustrate this point. He spoke of the brewers combine with headquarters at Milwaukee. He mentioned the conditions in Michigan and their experience in county option. In that campaign he was preceded by Clarence Darrow, of Chicago, by Mayor Rose, of Milwaukee, and others. They had said you would lose taxes, you would lose revenue and urged the people to hold to their saloons.

"Putting the saloons out of business," said Wright, "will not raise the taxes. Putting the saloon out of business gives Chicago, Cincinnati and Milwaukee a black eye. When the 19 Michigan counties went dry Cincinnati lost $2,000,000 a year. When there are two parties to a trade they cannot both lose two million dollars. The wealth of a town depends on the labor that produces that wealth. He never abused a man that drank."

"What did your father pay for a gallon of straight whiskey before the war? Twenty-five cents. A bushel of corn makes 4 gallons of straight whiskey. Corn sells at 60 cents a bushel. Today you are paying from $80 to $100 per cent more for whiskey than your father did. Your saloonkeeper says he pays $14,000 taxes. Your distiller says he pays a revenue tax. Your saloonkeeper and distiller never paid a cent. You pay it all. The federal government collects $1.10 on every gallon sold. The Peoria distiller pays the government and adds it to the cost. It cost 25 cents to make and adding this to the tax makes $1.35. The saloonkeeper pays it and adds his price. The town puts on its license and up goes the price."

"Now who in thunder," said the speaker, "pays this tax anyway? The meaneast tax on earth is the indirect tax. The $14,000 tax a year Brainerd does not get from the saloons. Brainerd collects this from the drinkers and some day the laboring man is going to find out about this system. The average life of a man who drinks is less than 17 years. The modern saloon is built to reach over the head of the man that drinks and reach his children. One hundred thousand boys go down in the gutter every year and 60,000 girls are wrecked in the wine rooms. We are not fighting a man's liberty."

"Abe Lincoln, the prophet of the republic, the greatest man whose footsteps trod this country, said:—'The liquor business is a cancer eating the life out of the republic and should be destroyed.'"

He spoke how liquor touched the defenseless heads of a man's wife and his babies and told the story of the drunkard who barred out his wife and child in the cold and let them freeze to death. The woman let it alone. The baby let it alone. But both froze to death outside of the cabin, while the drunken beast of a husband lay inside. Did the liquor let them alone?

LIGHTS TONIGHT

Brainerd Will Have Lights and Power This Evening it is Said

The necessary material to connect the city electric light system arrived in the city this morning and is being installed, and Secretary Nelson, of the Water and Light board says the necessary work will be completed this afternoon and the lights will be turned on tonight.

The various theatres of the city are proceeding on this basis and all are making preparations to accommodate the public and give shows this evening.

Col. Thorpe Returns

Col. Freman Thorpe, the noted portrait painter, arrived today from Austin, Texas, where he has been during the last three months. He also spent some time visiting in Galveston and Oklahoma City.

In speaking of the cotton crop, he said the recent cold snap was felt down South and that it did not tend to benefit the crop.

While at Austin he painted the portrait of Chief Justice Stanton and Justice Williams, of the Supreme Court of Texas, both of these paintings being for the Bar Association of Texas, who will present them to the supreme court to add to their historical collection.

He will return to his home at Hubert, Minn., and will remain there for the better part of the summer, attending to the governmental experimental station work and to the improvement of Hubert.

HALL OPPOSED TO BRYAN

Does Not Want Prohibitionists to Endorse Nebraskan.

Des Moines, April 27.—Charles R. Hall of California, as spokesman of the anti-Bryan delegates to the state prohibition convention here, made a vigorous speech against the endorsement of the Nebraska commoner for presidential candidate on the prohibition ticket. He declared the party could not afford "to jeopardize the movement by placing the banner of the party into the hands of men who are not yet out of the kindergarten class of the prohibition school."

"All this talk about Bryan or Hurdley or Folk leading the party is treason to the party and an insult to those of us who years ago graduated in this work."

Mr. Hall said Mr. Bryan should first publicly announce he was forever done with the "whisky Democratic party."

It is possible a controversy may arise in the convention over the endorsement of a presidential candidate. It is believed, however, Eugene Chaffey will be endorsed by the convention. Des Moines is after the national convention of 1912.

MANKATO ADOPTS COMMISSION PLAN

First City in Minnesota to Vote on Proposition.

Mankato, Minn., April 27.—At the special election held here for the adoption of the proposed charter based upon the commission form of city government there were 969 votes in favor of the charter and 671 against it. This gave a majority of 298 votes, this being thirty-one votes more than the four-sevenths required by the constitution, so that the new charter voted upon will go into force thirty days from date.

Mankato is the first city in Minnesota to adopt the commission form of city government. It is the first city in Minnesota to which the commission form of municipal government has been submitted.

The state legislature provided for the adoption of the commission form of government at the last 1909 regular session in St. Paul. The bill was first introduced by Senator S. D. Works of Mankato, the city, it was voted, in which the plan was first to be adopted. His bill first provided for the special elections to be held in cities of the third class (with populations between 10,000 and 20,000 in Minnesota), but this bill was afterwards amended by Senator Works, at the request of several friends of the commission form, to include every city in the state. The bill provided that a four-sevenths vote would be sufficient to carry any city's new charter which included this idea.

The commission form of municipal government has been adopted at Minot and Mandan in North Dakota; at Yankton, Pierre and numerous other cities in South Dakota; at Eau Claire, Wis.; and has made a severe test just recently in Des Moines, Ia., where it has been established in an improved form which has proved a model to cities all over the United States.

The adoption of the "plan" by the first Minnesota city to consider it will be watched with statewide interest. The contest in Mankato was a very spirited one, but friendly on both sides.

Elliott to Succeed Forbes.

Minneapolis, April 27.—Letters received in Minneapolis from the Philippine islands say it is rumored in the islands that Judge Charles B. Elliott, formerly of the Minnesota supreme court and now a member of the Philippine commission, will succeed W. Cameron Forbes as governor general of the Philippines.

Business Man Killed.

Central City, Neb., April 27.—Alexander Lyon, a Central City business man, was killed when his automobile skidded in making a quick turn, going over an embankment and pinning him underneath. Two men riding with Lyon escaped with slight hurts.

NOTED POET DIES IN PARIS

Bjornstjerne Bjornson's Long Illness Proves Fatal.

END COMES VERY PEACEFULLY

Family Surrounds Him as the Famous Writer Passes Away—Had Been in Poor Health for Nearly a Year. Went to the French Capital City for Treatment—Suffered From Arterio Sclerosis.

Paris, April 27.—Bjornstjerne Bjornson, the Norwegian poet, novelist and dramatist, reformer and advocate of universal peace, died here surrounded by his family. His end was peaceful.

The last serious illness of the novelist extended over nearly a year. He was brought to Paris in the early part of last November for special treatment, accompanied by his wife and daughter, a physician and nurses, and during part of the journey traveled with the king of Denmark in the king's private car.

In Paris, however, he was unable to receive the treatment for arterio sclerosis, from which he was suffering, but, notwithstanding this, he showed marked improvement for a time, due entirely to his wonderful vitality. Again last February his death was expected momentarily, but the crisis passed, leaving him less able to withstand the next attack. During the past week it was apparent that he could not hold out much longer. Prior to his death he was unconscious for some hours.

On Dec. 8, 1832, Bjornstjerne Bjornson was born at Kvikne, Norway. It is presumed that the sturdy, virile imagination that was to distinguish his writings was largely influenced by the scenery that lay around his boyhood home. Not only is Kvikne the center of a mighty mountain region, with towering peaks and rushing mountain streams, but the vicinity is rich in legendary tales and the quaint, picturesque folk songs that have made remarkable the writings of Ibsen and Bjornson.

Call of the Pen Strong.

At any rate the future poet and novelist spent the first years of his life at Kvikne, Romsdal and Molde.

The call of the pen was in Bjornson's blood and he left the University of Christiania to enter journalism. Even before this he had written sketches and reviews of plays. In 1858 appeared his first drama, "Between the Battles." In the same year he published his first novel, "Synnove Solbakken." His play met with the success generally accorded an unknown author, but his novel was widely read. It was translated into English by Mary Howitt as "Truth and Trial."

One thing his play did for him: It attracted the attention of theater men and in 1860 he was made director of the theater in Bergen, a place which he held for three years.

From 1858 until well down to the nineties Bjornson was a prolific writer. Poems, plays and novels came with rapidity and artistic effect from his pen. His fame increased with leaps and bounds. Almost immediately he was recognized as the great Norwegian author, the one entirely national figure.

GAVE CRUISER BIG SUMS

Minneapolis Millionaire Furnished Kribs With $250,000.

Portland, Ore., April 27.—Admitted by stipulation, records of the First National bank of Roseburg exhibited conclusive evidence that money furnished to Linn county entrymen in 1900 by Frederick A. Kribs, timber cruiser, came from the coffers of Charles A. Smith, the Minnesota millionaire, from whom the government is endeavoring to recover the title to fifty-eight Oregon timber claims.

Entry No. 1 was on April 12 of that year, when Kribs made a sight draft for $30,000 which was honored by Smith at the Swedish-American National bank of Minneapolis.

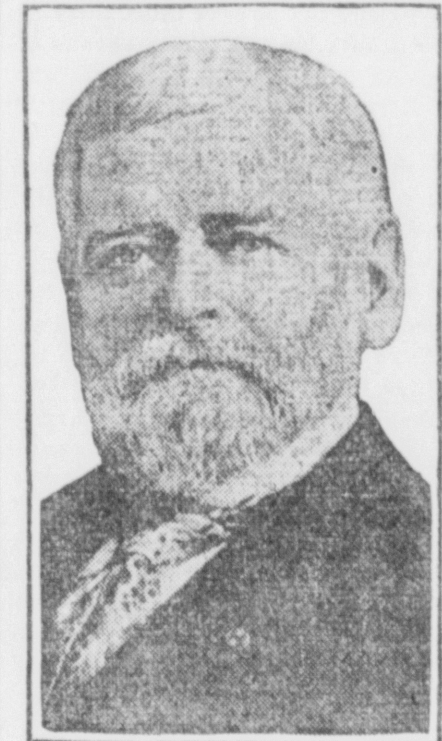

The date was just one week prior to the taking of final proofs and the payment of the government price of $2.50 per acre on thirty-three claims. At a later date in May, Kribs again drew for a single sum of $40,000. Altogether Smith furnished Kribs $200,000 during April and May, 1900.

While the payment of the money was admitted by the defendant attorneys, Lind and Ueland stand pat on the assertion that Smith did not know he was purchasing lands being acquired from the government as a result of conspiracy between S. A. D. Puter and Horace McKinley.

Mothers' Day in Minnesota.

St. Paul, April 27.—Mothers' day will again be celebrated in Minnesota on May 9, and a proclamation will be issued by Governor A. O. Eberhart some time this week asking for a general observance of the day. The observance consists in wearing a white carnation. It was first observed in Minnesota a year ago, under a resolution by the legislature and a proclamation by Governor Johnson.

JULIUS C. BURROWS.
Michigan Senator Has
No Intention of Retiring.

BURROWS WILL NOT RETIRE

Michigan Senator Will Remain in the Race.

Washington, April 27.—As the result of a conference here between Michigan Republican political leaders it is announced that Senator Burrows will remain in the senatorial race. At the September primaries Burrows and Representative Townsend both will be candidates and will agree to abide by the result of the primaries.

FORMER TREASURER IS NOW IN JAIL

Minnesota Man Held on Forgery Charge.

Pine City, Minn., April 27.—A. O. Wharton, sixty years old, for years respected deacon in the Methodist church at Bruno, Minn., is in jail here awaiting the opening of Judge Stober's court. He is charged with the forgery of school warrants amounting to about $6,000.

He was brought back to Pine City by Cashier D. Greeley of the Pine City State bank. Mr. Greeley left here Saturday on information put in his possession, going to Parkville, Mo., ten miles north of Kansas City, where he found the object of his trip on a farm three miles in the country. Mr. Wharton was staying at the home of friends. He had gone there to settle the estate of a dead brother, it is said. He returned peacefully.

Mr. Wharton's alleged peculations date back to 1904, although most of the questioned warrants date within the past two or three years. His alleged crimes were unsuspected until an incident in the First State bank of Pine City last week.

Mr. Williams of the Bruno (Minn.) school board, of which Wharton was for years treasurer, was boasting before Cashier Greeley of the First State bank that the Bruno district was out of debt.

"Why, we have about $800 in warrants on your district," said Cashier Greeley.

"The thunder you have?" cried Mr. Williams.

"We have a number of Bruno warrants, too," interposed a banker from Rush City, Minn., who happened to be in the office.

A bank clerk was then hurried to the Pine City State bank to inquire about the matter and, upon his return, still further warrants were reported to be held by that bank.

All the parties to the revelation pushed their inquiries among the different banks of Pine county until the following named banks were also discovered to be affected: The First National bank of Rush City, The Quarryman's State bank and the Sandstone State bank of Sandstone and the State bank of Hinckley.

JOHN HAYS WANTS PARDON

Was Member of Gang Robbing Sawyer State Bank in North Dakota.

Minot, N. D., April 27.—John Hays, one of the men sent to the state penitentiary for the robbery of the Sawyer State bank several years ago, has made application for a full and complete pardon at the hands of the state board which meets in June at Bismarck. Hays was given seventeen years by Judge Goss of the district court of this county. The Sawyer gang was a tough one, the officials having to fight a pitched battle with the men before they were finally captured. One man was killed in the chase for the burglars.

Roosevelt to Talk in Kansas.

Topeka, Kan., April 27.—Governor Stubbs of Kansas has received from Theodore Roosevelt a letter accepting the invitation to deliver an address at the dedication of the John Brown battlefield at Ossawatimie, Kan., next August.

SENATOR CLAPP IS VERY FRANK

Speech in Senate Makes the Standpatters Gasp.

ATTACKS ATTORNEY GENERAL

Minnesota Refers Facetiously to the Political Antecedents of Attorney General Wickersham—Also Speaks in Blunt Manner of the Way the Administration Railroad Bill Was Prepared.

Washington, April 27.—Senator Moses E. Clapp of Minnesota delivered a speech in the senate that made the standpatters gasp in amazement and the progressives chuckle with delight. Mr. Clapp addressed himself to the recent Chicago speech of Attorney General Wickersham, who, in an attempt to read certain Republicans out of the party, made remarks that aroused the ire of the progressives in the house and senate.

Mr. Clapp's speech was deliciously frank. He spoke in a blunt manner of the way the administration railroad bill was prepared by the attorney general and the resentment that manifested itself in administration circles when progressives set about to amend it.

"When this bill came from the committee," said Senator Clapp, "it was with a declaration, more or less official, if we are to regard as Republican the dictates of any one man, with the declaration that it should be passed without crossing a 't' or dotting an 'i.' More than that, we were told with an assumption of authority in the widespread publicity given to a declaration which I cannot question that the test of party loyalty would be to pass this bill without questioning its provisions. More than that, we were told that the protests which minority members of the committee might make to the provisions of this bill, while no power could prevent our making our protests, would be met with that condition which in military parlance is clothed in the expression, 'give them the cold steel,' and in parliamentary parlance with the expression, 'give them the roll call.' But I am glad to say that we have finally reached a point where those who would seek to defend this bill have been obliged to meet debate with debate."

Senator Clapp referred facetiously to the political antecedents of Attorney General Wickersham. Prior to his appearance at the cabinet table, the Minnesota senator said, Mr. Wickersham was unknown to Republicans at large. Mr. Clapp deprecated "reading anybody out of the party." Instead, he said, recent elections showed the necessity of reading people into the party.

POLICY OF CONSERVATION

May Be Extended to Indian Reservations.

Washington, April 27.—The policy of conservation will be extended to Indian reservations, if a bill reported to the house by the committee on Indian affairs by Representative Burke of South Dakota is enacted into law. The bill not only provides for the conservation of water power sites on Indian reservations, but it contains a number of provisions safeguarding the property rights of the Indians. It also makes certain changes in the law governing allotments and authorizes the leasing of mineral bearing lands embraced in Indian reservations.

One provision of the bill has a bearing on Indian heirs. Under the Burke law passed a few years ago it was provided that the secretary of the interior should determine the heirs of deceased Indians. The language of the law is ambiguous on this point and has resulted in litigation in the courts. The bill just reported makes it clear that the secretary of the interior shall determine Indian heirs without recourse to the courts. The bill further provides that during the trust period an Indian may will his estate, a right that is now denied him.

St. Paul Man Injured.

Fargo, N. D., April 27.—Wallace Alley, a laborer of St. Paul, sustained a compound fracture of the leg while unloading crated marble slabs at The Great Northern depot in Moorhead. A heavy slab careened and fell upon the member, severely crushing it. Alley was taken to the Moorhead hospital, where the broken leg was set.

Woman Burned to Death.

Winnipeg, April 27.—Fierce prairie fires are reported from many parts of Western Canada with a great attendant loss to settlers' buildings in districts: Tisdale, Buchanan, Howard, Aberdeen, Lloydminster, Kitscoty, Dauphin, Makinak, McCreary and Reservoir. At the latter point one woman was burned to death.

John La Farge Recovers.

New York, April 27.—John La Farge, who was reported as dying on Sunday night, is pronounced out of danger by his physicians.

WOMAN TRIES TO END LIFE

Endeavors to Commit Suicide in Her Husband's Room.

Duluth, Minn., April 27.—Mrs. E. L. Raab, formerly of Eveleth, and wife of a well known resident of that city, made a sensational, and doubtless effectual, attempt to commit suicide at the St. Louis hotel.

She is suing her husband for divorce, and the suit has been pending in the Owatonna (Minn.) courts for nearly a year. They have been living apart since and for a short time before the bringing of the action, yet the woman appears to have desired to end her life in the quarters occupied by him.

She obtained access to his room at the hotel and there swallowed five strychnine tablets.

The woman's groans soon attracted the attention of a maid, who gave the alarm, and the hotel management hurried a physician to the relief of the sufferer. First aid was given, and Mr. Raab, whose whereabouts happened to be known, was summoned. He accompanied his wife to St. Mary's hospital, where it is reported she is very low and there can be little hope of her recovery.

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN HIS LIFE

Colonel Roosevelt Sees Aeroplane Flight.

GOES UP IN FACE OF A GALE

Daring French Aviator Risks His Life

In Order That the Former President of the United States Should Not Be Disappointed—Wind Proves Too Strong and Aeroplane is Blown to the Ground and Damaged.

Paris, April 27.—For the first time in his life former President Roosevelt saw an aeroplane flight. It was a very short one and the aeronaut, Emile Dubonnet, had a narrow escape from injury.

Colonel Roosevelt journeyed to Issy les Moulineaux as the guest of the Academy of Sports. There a large crowd had gathered, including cabinet ministers and noted aviators. Unfortunately a strong wind was blowing and it seemed as though the promised flight would have to be abandoned. Not wishing to disappoint Colonel Roosevelt, Dubonnet volunteered to go up in the face of the gale. He had recently made a sensational flight over Paris and it was thought if any one could give a good account of himself that one was Dubonnet.

The former president was deeply interested in every detail of the start and he pressed forward as the machine left the ground. It was evident, however, that it was no day for flying and the aeroplane had hardly gone 150 yards when it came down with a swoop, almost capsizing as it struck the ground. One of the wings was broken, but Dubonnet was not hurt. Colonel Roosevelt rushed forward and offered him his hearty congratulations.

Roosevelt Gets Gold Medal.

The aeroplane sheds were then visited, and Count de Lambert and Hart O. Berg, European manager for the Wrights, explained the operation of the Wright machine. Count de Lambert planned to make a flight, but the wind had increased to such violence that it was found impossible. Prior to his return to Paris M. de Villeneuve, president of the Academy of Sports, presented to Colonel Roosevelt, as honorary president, the academy's gold medal.

During the course of the afternoon Mr. Roosevelt received a deputation from the French Parliamentary Group for International Arbitration, headed by former Premier Leon Bourgeois and Baron d'Estournelles de Constant. The latter, in addressing the former president, said he counted upon Mr. Roosevelt's influence in the holding of a third peace conference at The Hague. To this Mr. Roosevelt replied that his influence could be taken for granted, "but," he added, "you must remember that I am now a private citizen."

"I, too, am a private citizen," said M. Bourgeois.

"I am proud to admit," continued Mr. Roosevelt, "that I am the first statesman to make an appeal to The Hague court—in a dispute between the United States and Mexico. A former government official should not give the impression that he believes he is still a government official, but with this reserve I am entirely in accord with you upon the necessity of a third Hague conference."

After a visit to the Luxembourg gallery Mr. Roosevelt was conducted to the famous revolutionary prison in the wing of the Palais de Justice, known as the Conciergerie, where he inspected the dungeons, among others that in which Marie Antoinette was confined prior to her execution.

The Catholic Lady Foresters will give a card party on Tuesday evening, May 3rd, in the basement of St. Francis Catholic church, the proceeds to go for the benefit of the Parochial school.

The Molders newly organized baseball club gave a dance at Walker hall which was well attended and proved a pleasant event. The money raised will be used to buy suits for the ball team.

Have customer for North side home. Must be good location and under $2500. Let us know what you have. Culver & Tinkelpaugh, "UPSTAIRS" 1st. Nat. Bk. Block.

J. J. Jacobson, of Fawndale, Minn., was out in the country visiting relatives. While in town last night he attended the Seaborn Wright lecture.

Mr. Jacobson returned to Fawndale on this morning's train.

P. Grams, of Duluth, came down to put in the leaded glass window for the new Norwegian Lutheran church.

T. J. St. Germain, of St. Germain Bros., of Duluth, is expected on the noon train. His firm furnished the windows and he will superintend the work of installation.

Hon Seaborn Wright left on the early morning train for Benson, Minn., where he will deliver a lecture. From there he goes to Mankato and Owatonna, after which he returns to his home in Rome, Georgia.

Mr. Wright was most favorably impressed with the city and our state.

W. L. Martin, of Powers, Mich., who is with the Nebraska Telephone Co., passed through Brainerd on his way to Minneapolis. Mr. Martin married a Miss LeMay, of Brainerd, 10 years ago. His father takes the Dispatch and he thought this a pleasant way to let the old gentleman know he passed through.

85 acres on a fine lake, some meadow, best farms in county surrounding, can be got for $10 per acre. This is a bargain—let us show this to you. Culver & Tinkelpaugh, "Upstairs" 1st. Nat. Bk. Block.

This morning. He states his company carries 20 people. They played to Monday, at Staples on Tuesday. A good house at St. Cloud Sunday and band concert will be given here at noon. Mr. Ackerman is an Elk, belonging to Keokuk, Iowa, No. 106. Not knowing about the loss of our electric light plant, he was surprised to see the kerosene lamp demonstration at the Ransford.

The molders base ball team will play the high school nine Thursday evening at six o'clock. This means an early supper for at least thirty players and fans. Clem Willis is manager and it is reported that Am. Morton, whose knowledge of low and high balls is extensive, may consent to act as umpire. The team is anxious to meet Deerwood, Cuyuna and Crosby. Scotty may act as coach.

E. R. Jones went to Fargo, N. D., on the night train.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Before going any farther with these notes we want to correct a false impression which many people have received. It was brought to our attention by the opinion of a friend who said, "Those so-called jokes of yours are so pitiful, they would make iron tears run down the sides of the high school furnace." It is time such a sentiment was punished. We wish to state frankly, fairly and most emphatically that we have published on jokes nor even attempted to publish any. The few sayings of our brilliant comrades have been put forth for this reason, that the ones who said them have earnestly requested their publication through a sincere desire to see their brilliancy in print, and we have esteemed their friendship too highly to risk losing it by refusing. We have no apology to make. The liberty of the press must be maintained.

The pupils of the school are rejoicing over the action of the school board in the matter of a gymnasium, if their purpose is carried out, next year we may hope to see the gymnasium taking the place of the street corner or pool room, and the punching bag or basket ball replacing the cigarette. All credit is due Supt. Cobb for his splendid efforts in this direction.

Everett Swanson may be at home in Pequot, but it is a firmly established belief in the west part of the room that he can't find his way to the heart of "Staples."

John Brady pulled off a sensational dive in the laboratory recently. The prospects for a base ball team darkened for a few moments but Mr. Brady will pull through.

WANTED—A young man musically inclined for the Symphony Orchestra. Must be able to play the bells and have nerve enough to appear in all concerts. Because of the number of rehearsals a man without any family connections is preferred.

The Physics class is studying electricity and need a cat to experiment with. Will someone having an extra "felis domestica" kindly donate? It's all in the interests of science.

Correct translation—"Dear Fatherland May Peace be Thine." S. S. Frans—"Dear Father May he Rest in Peace."

Teacher—How do we account for the intelligence of fish? C. S.—"Oh they're often found in schools."

The semi-chorus has a new song, "Italia, Oh Italia." When their harmonious voices and palpitating hearts express their deep (regret) grief at leaving that "land of sunlight", the audience will surely be moved to tears.

Teacher—"Now orthology is the opposite of geology, which means the study of life." G. B.—"Study of death."

Teacher—"What are the unusual facts in Carlyle's life?" J. G.—"His wife was intelligent."

Teacher—"What was the purpose of the middle row being made of brush in Caesar's bridge?" E. M.—"To serve as a spring for the soldiers' heels."

Margaret Desch has withdrawn from school to reside in St. Paul.

Mildred Skauge was absent from school on Wednesday because of a severe cold.

The Girls Glee club has a new song, "Eustudiana."

George Mahood had the misfortune to break his knife by dropping it on the floor Wednesday. George is having his share of hard luck.

Miss Burke's voice was seriously impaired last week by a severe cold.

Lost, Strayed or Stolen—An English literature, ink spotted on the north side, and a German grammar comparatively new. Finder please return same during absence of Lloyd Smith to escape questioning.

The Zoology class have finished work on the crey fish and are now in shape to handle turtles, frogs, clams, etc.

Esther Belmont had the misfortune to be transferred to the west side of the room.

The freshman class received a beautiful picture as a reward for their stories sent to the Journal Junior.

The Ninth grade Civics class debated the question, "Resolved that the government should own the railroads." The negative won by a unanimous decision.

Miss Yeo's physiography class had an interesting field trip Thursday. The party examined the river valley, and the surrounding territory, finding terraces, sand hooks, samples of igneous and sedimentary rocks and some unknown substance which is supposed to have fallen from Haley's comet.

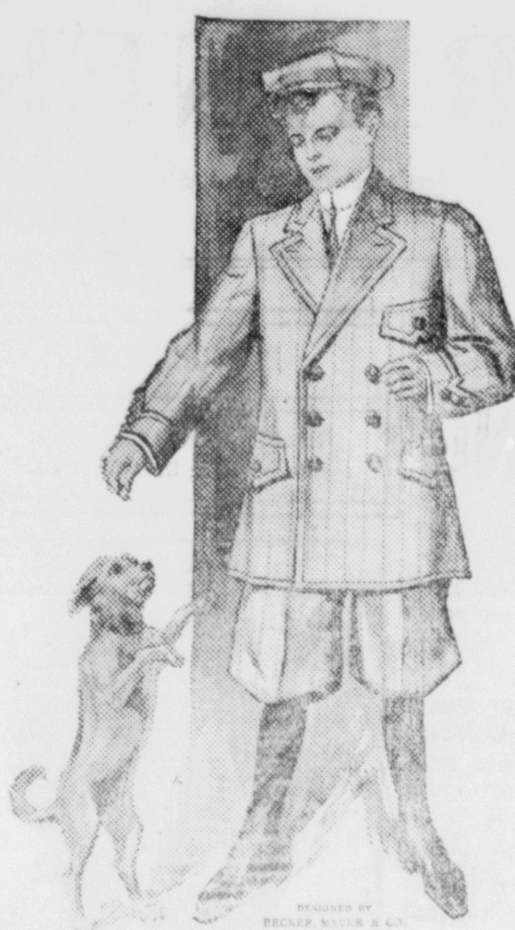

Recitations at 8:30 are nothing new in the 8th grade.

We have been called to account for our statement about the 8th grade debaters. The Lowell debaters say they are waiting for a formal challenge from the Freshmen and are not the aggressive under any circumstances.

To Market on Stilts.

An interesting and picturesque custom in southwestern France is that of going to market on stilts. Groups of young men and women mounted on high stilts may be seen daily crossing the marshy plains known as "the Landes." "The Landes" are cut up into small ditches, pools and hummocks, and stilts are in consequence almost necessary to those who desire to traverse them.

NOTICE TO EAGLES

Owing to the absence of electric lights there will be no meeting tonight. All members are requested to meet at Elks hall Thursday, April 28, at 1:30 P. M. to attend the funeral of our late Brother, C. H. Martin.

HENRY KRUSE,
Worthy Secretary.

DR. BRUNS will be at the Ransford hotel, tomorrow. Consult him and have your eyes fitted correctly with glasses. Examination is free. 1t

Made Him Start.

Doctor (to patient)—Your heart is rather irregular. Have you anything that is worrying you?

Patient—Oh, not particularly, only that just now, when you put your hand in your pocket, I thought you were going to give me your bill.

The Sound Sleep of Good Health

The restorative power of sound sleep can not be over estimated and any ailment that prevents it is a menace to health. J. L. Southerns, Eau Claire, Wis., says: "For a long time I have been unable to sleep soundly at night, because of pains across my back and soreness of my kidneys. My appetite was very poor and my general condition was much run down. I have been taking Foley's Kidney Pills but a short time and now sleep as sound as a rock. I eat and enjoy my meals, and my general condition is greatly improved. I can honestly recommend Foley's Kidney Pills as I know they have cured me." mwf

One Conductor Who Was Cured

Mr. Wilford Adams is his name and he writes about it: "Some time ago I was confined to my bed with rheumatism. I used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect and the third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Lexington, Ky., street railway. It gave me more relief than any medicine I had ever used and it will do all you claim for it in cases of rheumatism." Foley's Kidney Remedy cures rheumatism by eliminating the uric acid from the blood.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles. A Brainerd Citizen Shows How to Cure Them

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they may lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Brainerd people testify to permanent cures.

Mrs. L. Peterson, Brainerd, Minn., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and I emphatically declare that this remedy is a most reliable one. I suffered for a long time from pains through my loins and a constant dull ache in the small of my back. As there were other symptoms of disordered kidneys, I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a supply from a local drug store. After I began the use of this remedy, I felt better in a few days and my condition gradually improved until all symptoms of kidney trouble had disappeared. I am a firm believer in the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills and take pleasure in recommending them to other sufferers."

WORK TO START ON POST OFFICE

Contractor Miller Now in the City to Make Necessary Arrangements

WANTS TO LET SUB-CONTRACT

Thinks Building Will all be Completed by February 1911

J. W. Miller, of St. Paul, who secured the contract for the erection of the new postoffice, is in the city today. He will remain here two or three days and during that time he will be stopping at the national hotel, to superintend the arrival of his material and equipment.

Mr. Miller is a very pleasant and accommodating gentleman and was kind enough to tell the Dispatch representative all about the postoffice work. The first thing to be done is the excavation work. He wants some to let the contract to some man to put on the scrapers and four or five teams and do the work at once.

Mr. Miller's aim will be, as it has been on other contracts he has completed, to do every bit of local work it is possible to do in the town where buildings are erected. He wants to give our people every chance possible to bid on work and to be employed by him. Wherever he can figure on or submit anything that can be let in a home town he does it. The following sub-contracts have been let:

Granite work to Wm. Penn, Minneapolis; Indiana Limestone work to Bedford Quarry Co., interior finish to North Side Sash and Door Co., Minneapolis.

Contracts which are not let embrace: Wiring, plastering, bricklaying, stone setting, iron erection, ornamental iron work, lamp standards and brackets, tin and sheet metal work, painting and varnishing, approaches which constitute walks, driveway, curb, coping and macadam work, sodding and seeding contract, waterproofing of basement walls, plumbing and heating.

Mr. Miller states he hopes to have the postoffice finished by February, 1911. There was one point which seemed to bother him and that was the question of where to dump the dirt from the excavation work. It was suggested it could be used in filling up the South Sixth street park to proper grade. Such an arrangement would please the park board as well as every resident on the south side.

Officials of the Company Owning the Dam Inspect It this Morning

Monday night's break in the Weyerhaeuser dam has been promptly repaired and the immediate danger is past.

Men of the Northern Boom Co. and the Northwest Paper Co. pulp mill are engaged in the repair work. They are putting in a wing dam from the east shore to the burned piers and are placing slush boards in position.

Messrs. Charles Weyerhaeuser and R. D. Musser, of Little Falls, Pres. Chute, of the Mississippi & Rum River Boom Co., and C. I. McNair, of Cloquet are in the city, personally inspecting the work.

Koop's Automobile Catches Fire But Explosion is Averted

COLLISION IN THIRD WARD

Ralph Strickler While Riding Bicycle, Collides With a Buggy and is Injured

Ralph R. Strickler, 518 Northeast Maple street, rode home on his wheel yesterday noon with the pleasant anticipation of dinner animating his movement.

While making the sharp turn in the narrow alley between Maple and Pine streets he ran head on into a one horse buggy and was thrown from the wheel. He was partially unconscious, but was able to recover and walk home. The wheel shows the effects of the collision. All that saved Mr. Strickler was the fact that he was struck a glancing blow.

Steve Gartner was immediately behind him and assisted him home.

LIBRARY BOARD MEETING

Regular Monthly Meeting of the Board Held Last Monday Evening

The Library Board held its regular meeting, Monday evening, April 25. After allowing bills to the amount of $108.18, the matter of allowing the Children's story hour, and the Ladies' Musical Club to plant trees, was reconsidered and carried that two undesirable trees be taken from the boulevard and they be allowed to plant two trees in their place.

Applications for librarian were read and balloted on. Mrs. Lillian Follett receiving the majority of the votes was declared elected. A report from the ladies who have charge of the Children's story hour every Saturday afternoon at the library, was read and placed on file.

Mr. Peters, of the Kimball Piano Co., very kindly offered the ladies the use of a piano which the board allowed to be placed in the assembly room, and will be of great assistance to the ladies in entertaining the children.

Likes Yankee Doodle

Editor Dispatch:

Permit me to say a few words through the columns of your valuable paper relative to the Skovgaard concert which was given here on Monday evening, a critique report of which was found in last evening's edition. I am sure that the city stands indebted to the Norwegian-Danish society who interested itself in getting it here, and also to the Brainerd Musical Club who gave it their unqualified endorsement and promised their assistance should it come, and which it did, though they do not claim anything for the success which attended it.

Once again, I do not wish to find any great fault with the report of the same; but I am inclined to think that the critique must have been hastily written. It said some most excellent things which were well put; but several things which I find there (possibly these things are liable to creep in one's haste to get same into printer's hands) I am sure, were it written again, would not be put in.

The one in particular which I am sure was unfortunately put, had reference to Skovgaard's rendition of Yankee Doodle, etc. The sentence in regard to it includes performer, audience and tune. Personally, I was pleased to hear it as a finale to so versatile a program, both from an instrumental and also a vocal standpoint, and it stands in my experience along musical lines in our city as the finest program of its kind ever rendered. But may we not say with the same language of the reporter who so ably writes of Suwanee River and Home Sweet Home, of Yankee Doodle? Here is the language, "the tenderest sentiments cling around them like ivy to the oak, and when played by a master, they touch a responsive chord in every human heart."

I sincerely hope that we may not have forgotten that that same tune made the little lad of Roxbury in the long ago, quite merry. Lord Percy so despondent, and that Yankee soldiers in their hour of victory and heavy fighting sang and played it well as they drove Lord Percy and his soldiers back to Lexington and when Burgoyne surrendered. Whatever may be the origin of the tune in centuries gone by, I for one sincerely pray that we may never overlook the fact that much of the feeling and action of the Revolutionary struggle is wrapped up in that tune; that it came with the "tenderest sentiments" to the Boys in Blue as they tramped over many a fatiguing league during the Civil war; that it has enough history clinging to it and permeating it to arouse just a little more than send "us home with jingles tingling in our ears," particularly when played as the hand and spirit of a Skovgaard can.

Sincerely thankful to those enterprising citizens, one and all, who were instrumental in bringing such a trio of artists to our city; giving all credit to Skovgaard as showing what the most critical of critics claim him to be, one among only three or four great living violinists; hoping that he will continue to play Yankee Doodle to every American audience, I am,

Sincerely Yours,
LISTENER.

GOULD WEDDING PRESENT.

Costly New York House Bought For Miss Marjorie Gould by Her Father.

One of the wedding presents which Miss Marjorie Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, will soon receive from her parents was purchased the other day. It cost about $350,000 and was bought by Mr. Gould.

This costly wedding present may be seen by all who desire to view it on the easterly side of Fifth avenue between Eighty-second and Eighty-third streets, New York. It is a little too big to be boarded up or concealed from public or private gaze, like most wedding presents are until after the nuptial ceremony, because it is a six story English basement dwelling house at 1015 Fifth avenue and occupying a lot fronting twenty-five feet in the avenue with a depth of 100 feet. It is one of the finest houses of its type ever built in the choice residential section of Fifth avenue to sell.

The house also contains many other beautiful features. The hall leading to the main entrance is high and wide and bordered by marble walls. There are a large reception hall, a parlor richly decorated, a spacious music and dancing room, cozy and large sitting rooms, many bedrooms and all the conveniences to be found in the modern house, including electric elevator, electric cooking apparatus, etc. The house is also considered to be the best type of the modern fireproof dwelling ever constructed.

The deed to the house is to be given to Miss Marjorie on April 10, the day set for her marriage to Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., of Philadelphia.

The house is to be her permanent city home. It is said that when she enters it after her return from a long honeymoon she will find the house fully furnished and servants waiting there to greet her.

A Question of Hearing.

The busy farmer strode anxiously into the postoffice.

"Have you got any letter for Mike Howe?" he asked.

The new postmaster looked him up and down.

"For who?" he snapped.

"Mike Howe!" repeated the farmer.

The postmaster turned aside.

"I don't understand," he returned stilly.

"Don't understand?" roared the applicant. "Can't you understand plain English? I asked if you've got any letter for Mike Howe."

"Well, I haven't!" snorted the postmaster. "Neither have I a letter for anybody else's cow. Get out!"—London Scraps.

Gets a Year in Prison.

Townner, N. D., April 27.—P. H. Johnson, recently arrested at Kief, this county, on a charge of causing the death of a Russian whom he had made a bet with on the problem of drinking ten glasses of whisky without getting drunk, and who died instead, was given a year in the state penitentiary for blindpiggling.

Cherub Devine

By
SEWELL FORD

Copyright, 1909, by Mitchell Kennerley

"But you can see how I feel about it, can't you?" Mr. Devine dashed at his unfortunate wording of this appeal. What he was trying to do most was to conceal his real feelings. But he plunged boldly ahead with his argument. "That's why I am going to stay here until you have promised to be reasonable," was his closing declaration.

"Indeed!" A man with such deep knowledge of womankind as the Cherub thought he possessed would have detected a note of challenge in her tone. Mr. Devine, however, thought that he was managing the affair very cleverly, when she continued, "I suppose I may have time to think it over, if I am to reconsider?"

"Of course, all the time you want," he assented readily.

The countess looked up quickly and replied:

"This is Monday. Isn't it? Well, by Wednesday night I shall probably be able to tell you exactly what I mean to do—that is, providing I am still here."

"But you can wait two days, can't you?"

"Yes, I can if you can."

Then the Cherub understood. She meant to take him at his word and hold him to it. Although he thought of many things which might happen to P. Z. and N. if for two whole days his watchful eyes should be taken from it, he did not flinch.

"I'm game," he said.

The clanging of a big gong announces the daily openings of the New York Stock Exchange. During five years there had never been a morning when Cherub Devine was not to be found within earshot of that gong when it rang in Wall street's brief but tumultuous day. He was to be found waiting with calm confidence whatever crisis, big or little, might arise, and generally there was something of the sort.

Yet here he was at opening hour on this post-holiday Tuesday morning only vaguely conscious that he was miles away from it all. If he remembered it was only the troublesome thought of a moment. What did he care if a thousand gongs were ringing to open a thousand stock exchanges? They might stay open forever or close for good and all; he was helping the Countess Veechi toss bits of sweet crackers to a pair of white swans.

Perhaps it was the clear, crisp September air, perhaps it was something else, which caused the Cherub to feel within him a new glow and thrill of mere existence. He himself did not entirely understand the origin of this feeling, but he had no inclination to analyze it. He was glad he was there. Especially he was glad that the countess was there too. Beyond that nothing was to be desired.

Thus it happened that the advent of a red headed boy on a bicycle seemed almost an impertinence. The boy dropped his wheel on the lawn, pulled a thin, black book from his pocket and held out a yellow envelope to Mr. Devine.

"Message for you," announced the boy.

"Well, young man, you take that precious message back to the house, chuck it on the porch and get Eppings to sign. Here's a dollar."

He of the red hair grinned expansively and retired. For another delicious period they threw pieces of sweet crackers to the swans. Then the boy came back on his bicycle.

"Prepaid reply message," was his second announcement.

"Want to earn another dollar?" asked Mr. Devine.

"Yep."

"Here it is, then. Chuck this message where you put the other one and tell whoever sent it that I'm very busy or sick and can't fish—anything you think best—and sign it yourself."

"You don't seem greatly interested in your telegrams, Mr. Devine," observed the countess. "I thought that telegrams always meant something important."

HE WAS HELPING THE COUNTESS VEECHI FEED THE SWANS.

"Not this kind, I'll read them Thursday morning. Isn't there some place we can go where that boy can't find us again?"

"There's the garden. And you have not seen the dahlias yet."

An hour later, when they returned to the house, they found the red haired boy perched on the horse block.

"Three more!" he announced, producing his book. "And they all want rush answers."

"Good!" said Mr. Devine. "Give me your book a minute."

On the receipt blank he wrote "Refused" opposite his name.

"Guess that'll do the trick," observed the boy.

He of the red hair was correct. No more messages were sent up from the village.

LAYMEN HOLD CONVENTION

Missionary Movement Discussed at St. Paul Meeting.

St. Paul, April 27.—With 1,800 men standing and singing as one man "Sons of God Go Forth to War," the St. Paul convention of the Laymen's missionary movement formally was opened. The same spirit moved the throng through the evening as the 1,800 applauded the speakers who told of the great work to be done right at home for the evangelization of the world, and of the work that has already been done in the heathen world and until they all joined in the closing hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."

Seldom has the Auditorium seen a gathering so enthusiastic and so unanimous in spirit, never has there been in that building a meeting just like this.

The banquet at the Auditorium, which opened the convention, was a success in every respect. There were as many people present as could be comfortably crowded on the stage of the Auditorium, where the dinner was served.

The speakers were full of enthusiasm for the movement. They were able to impart to their audience a thorough understanding of the problems to be solved and the magnitude of the work and were received with unbounded enthusiasm.

Anything that is overdone or underdone is not good. If you use the cheap and Big Can Kinds you are getting quantity at the sacrifice of quality. Here's the "Full Value" in BAKING POWDER

The Cheap and Big Can Kind

In this can you get more substance but not more baking powder. It is great in quantity only — not in economy — not in satisfaction.

The Full Value Kind

Calumet, in the Standard 1 lb. can, sells at a moderate cost—but is great in all-round satisfaction. You use less of it—it makes the batter lighter, purer—more delicious. The Trust Kind

Cost in price, little less, quality is as better — it is as good.
